

Yo yo ma

Stevie B is in the house.

We're gonna' get down and kick it with a little parking rap.

My name is Stevie B and I'm here to say
We're gonna' park some cars the ol' Rotary way.

We send them to the left, we send them to the right
We don't care, we can park 'em all night!

Now Rusty and Tom come ridin' in the cart
Some people say he's a grouchy old fat.

Now I say no, that's just our Rusty
He's just a little bit old and a little bit crusty.

Now there's Miss Charlotte workin' the gate
Collectin' seven dollars and sometimes eight.

Her bright red socks are lookin' real hip
Maybe that's why she always gets a tip.

Now Miss Gay Thompson goes the extra mile
Carryin' some kid with her big Rotary smile.

She don't care that his nose is all snotty
She's just hopin' that he don't go potty.

Now Little Stevie B loves barkin' at the fans.
Bobbin' and weavin' and dodgin' the vans.

Now everybody remember that we park 'em on Easter
If you wanna have some fun, just get off your keester.

So just grab a flag and a bright orange vest
And come out and park with our Rotary best.

Come on a horse or come on a cow
We don't care; we'll park 'em anyhow.

Bring us your cars and bring us your trucks
We can park anything for JUST SEVEN BUCKS!

Now that's my little story about parkin' with the best
Now everyone join me for the Four Way Test.

Think Parking

Would you believe that as of now we have 185 "slots" filled out of a total requirement of 476 - that's 39%! OK, so slots are positions needed to staff the parking lots. On the new schedule, displayed in the hall today, you will see that each game is broken down into three shifts with twelve slots each in shifts 1 and 2 and four slots in shift 3. Got it? It's easy to see where we need you. The slots with names in them are filled, the slots without names need to be filled - so have at it and get your own slot nailed down. You can do this by either filling out a sign up form available on the business table or on the Club web site <rotaryfortmyers.org>.

We will have shirts and caps at a meeting in a couple of weeks.

Membership Directory

Have you picked up your new Membership Directory refill pages? They have been available at the last two meetings, are here today, will be here next week, and after that may be picked up at the office.
